

14 Day Rule Frequently Asked Questions

What is the 14 Day Rule?

Medicare Date of Service Regulation 42 C.F.R. §414.510, also called “14 Day Rule,” is a regulation set by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) that requires laboratories, including Caris Life Sciences®, to bill the hospital for clinical laboratory services and the technical component of pathology services provided to Medicare patients when services are ordered less than 14 days after the patient was discharged.

Who is affected by the 14 Day Rule?

Hospitals and hospital-owned facilities that collected the specimen submitted to an independent lab for testing.

How does the 14 Day Rule impact the facility?

Laboratories are required by Medicare to bill the hospital or hospital-owned facility for testing ordered within 14 days of patient discharge. Certain outpatient services can be submitted by the facility to Medicare for reimbursement.

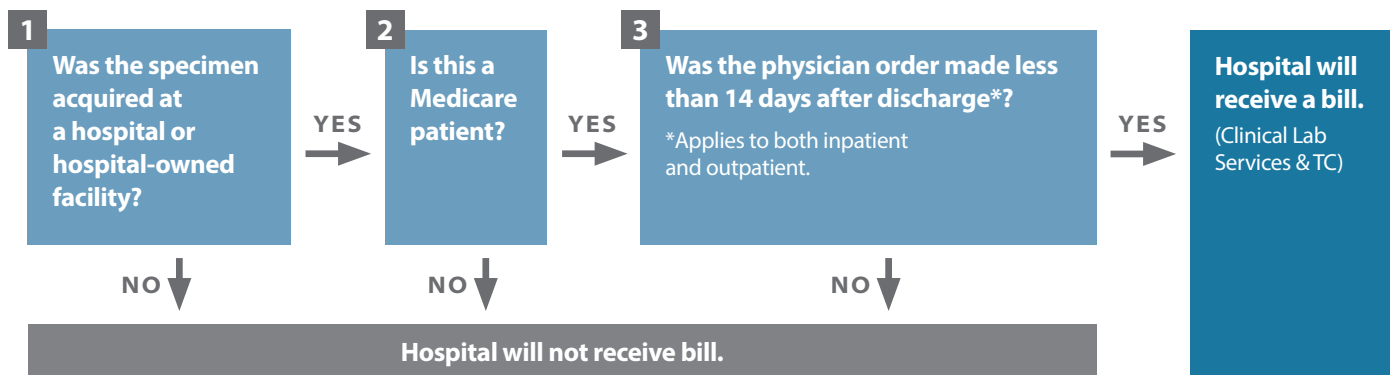

What if the specimen is collected during the hospital stay or outpatient procedure, but I order Caris Molecular Intelligence 14 days or more after discharge?

Caris will bill Medicare directly for any tumor profiling order placed 14 days or more after the patient is discharged.

The decision to submit an order for testing should be guided by the clinical judgement of the ordering physician and should not be based on the application of any billing rules.

14 Day Rule Calculation

The below information is based on the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) regulation, laboratory date of service for clinical laboratory and pathology specimens (42 C.F.R. §414.510).

For more information and full regulation details, visit:

www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/CFR-2015-title42-vol3/pdf/CFR-2015-title42-vol3-sec414-510.pdf.

To order or learn more, visit www.CarisMolecularIntelligence.com.

US: 888.979.8669 | MIClientServices@carisls.com

Intl: 00 41 21 533 53 00 | EUCustomerServices@carisls.com